MY LIFE IS LIKE THE SHATTERED WRECK.

BY ROBERT EMER HOOGE.

My life is like the shattered wreck
Cast by the waves upon the shore;
The broken mast—the riddled deck—Tell of the shipwreck that is o'er.
Yet from the ruins of the storm
The mariner his raft will form.
Once more to tempt the faithless sea—But hope rebuilds no barque for me.

My life is like the blighted oak That lifts its bare and withered form, Sealed by the lightning's sudden stroke Sternly to meet the coming storm; Yet round the sapling trunk will twine
The curling tendrils of the vine, And life and freshness there impart—Not to the passion blighted heart.

My life is like the shattered rock In mid-ocean lone and drear, Worn by the wild waves' ceaseless shock That round its base its surges rear; Yet there the sea-weed still will cling Some flower will find a cleft to spring, And breathe a life there sweet perfume—For me life's flowers no more will bloom.

My life is like the desert waste By human footsteps seldom trod;
The eye no freshness there can trace No verdant spot on which to rest; Yet even among those sands so drear The stork will tend her young with care, Even there the notes of joy impart—But naught can cheer my lonely heart.

AERIAL NAVIGATION.

The maiden voyage of the first German passenger airship, the Deutschland, is announced for June 22.
The course will be from Friedrichshafen to Stuttgart, Mannheim, Cologne and Duesseldorf.

The Deutschland was built after the Zeppelin model jointly for the Hamburg-American Steamship Company and the German Airship Stock Company. The epoch-making aerial excursions will be carried out on a luxurious scale.

The cabin of the Deutschland is of mahogany, built after the style of a sleeping car. It is carpeted and inlaid with mother of pearl. Large windows provide an outlook on both sides. A restaurant will supply cold meats, coffee, tea and wines. The dimensions of the vessel are: Length, 485 feet; width, 46 feet. Its capacity is 24,852 cubic yards of gas, and it will carry three motors, totaling 350-horsepower with a speed of 35 miles an hour.

The limit of the voyage is fixed at 700 miles.
The lifting capacity of the craft is 41-000 pounds, of which 11,000 will cover crew, passengers and freight. The first trips are fully booked, the fares varying from $25 to $50.

SPEAKER CANNOT DEFEND THE RULES.

The old rules of the House were defended and the critics of Speaker Cannon were scored by him in a brief address late in the session of the House on Saturday. He contended that the operation of the rules as adopted by the Fifty-first Congress and as enforced by him never had interfered with the will of the majority of the House when an actual majority had been obtained on any proposition.

He scored newspaper "magazine writers who had criticized him, and declared that they had proceeded from a lack of knowledge and upon false premises.

His speech was made just after the House had agreed to the conference report on the railroad bill and had accepted the Senate amendment to the statehood bill. He surrendered his gavel to Representative Mann, of Illinois, and, descending to the floor, he went into the midst of the republican side and asked unanimous consent to address the House for ten minutes. There was no voice of protest.

Proceeding slowly and in measured words, the Speaker declared that whoever should be Speaker of the House, whether for two or eight years, could not escape criticism. He spoke of the 50,000 bills introduced in each Congress, all with their advocates demanding consideration.

"Many members introduce bills that they do not want passed," he went on, explaining the troubles that face a speaker, and he declared that, under the rules as they had been adopted in the Fifty-first Congress, he had at any time been possible for a majority in the House to legislate.

Referring directly to Minority Leader Champ Clark, the speaker said that the gentleman from Missouri would make the best speaker that the minority could offer for an oration by the democrats in honor of their floor leader.

Continuing, the speaker said that not half as many bills were passed under the new "unanimous-consent" rule as formerly, and he ridiculed the suggestion about the role as a "Czar."

Whatever the speaker might be, he declared that he preferred to maintain his fidelity to the majority of the House. Referring to newspaper and magazine writers, he said he would rather keep his own self-respect than "bead to demagogues and the self-constituted righteous ones who criticize without judgment and without knowledge."

KILLED IN A COLLISION.

A passenger train, loaded with emigrants en route to the west, running as the second section of No. 5, the Chicago Limited, on the Ontario and Western Railway, was wrecked at Parker, a small station 16 miles southeast of Norwich, N. Y., at 2:15 o'clock yesterday morning. Three passengers were killed and 25 injured. The wreck occurred when the emigrant train crashed into a locomotive running light.

The engineer and fireman of the train escaped serious injury, as if by a miracle.
The engine was returning to Sidney from Guilford Summit, where it had been sent to assist a coal train over the heavy grade. The engineer, B. F.
Kingman, had orders to wait at the summit until the second section of No.
5 had passed, but for some unexplained reason the engine was dropped back, when, at a sharp curve, he collided with the heavily loaded passenger train.

The train was made up of eight coaches and an engine and carried 317 emigrants. It was running about 30 miles an hour on the heavy grade, and the light engine, making about 25 miles, struck it head-on.

When the collision occurred, the first passenger coach, an old one, immediately behind the engine, was crushed to pieces, the tender of the engine passing nearly halfway through it.
All the injured, except the fireman and engineer of the light locomotive, were in this car, as the other seven coaches of the train remained on the track.

GOVERNORS IN PERIL.

Governors of four states had narrow escapes yesterday while riding from Versailles to Frankfort, Ky., in an automobile, when lightning twice struck near them. Those who were in the party included Governor Hadley of Mississippi, and his wife; Governor Shann of Arizona, Governor Ansel of South Carolina, and Governor Wilson of Kentucky, and his wife.

The party traveled through one of the worst electrical and hail storms which ever hit central Kentucky.
Twice the lightning struck within 20 feet of the machine. Once it struck the rails of the interurban railroad, just this side of Versailles, and knocked up a shower of sparks over the automobiles as it whirled past. A moment later it struck the road just ahead of the machine.

The four governors had been in Lexington and Fayette county for the day. They started home, and just outside of Versailles were struck by the storm.

Lightning was almost continuous, and it played about the automobiles from the time they left Versailles until they reached Frankfort. The governors said that it was the wildest ride they had ever taken.

The High State Court at Copenhagen has acquitted former Premier Christiansen of complicity with former Minister of Justice Albert in extensive frauds.
